STARTS MARRED AQUEDUCT RACES.

Field in the Third Event Was Strung Out for a Furlong and Favorite Beaten.

MISS MITCHELL BY A BLOCK.

Finished Ten Lengths Ahead of Lean Ferguson, the First Choice - Military at Juicy Odds.

New York, Nov. 12.-Bad starting again marred the racing at Aqueduct to-day. In the third race jockeys, with the exception of Thompson, on Miss Mitchell, were in the set of pulling up when the flag was dropped. Cephalalgia was left at the post and by the time the field had gone half a mile Miss Mitchell and Come to Order were ten lengths before the field, which was strung out for a furlong. Miss Mitchell won by ten lengths, while the favorite, Leon Fergucon, was second, four lengths before Fatalneret, to whom he finished third on Saturday. Ohnet was always the choice—the betting, with Louisville and Knight Banneret equal second choices at 3 to 1. Ohnet and Royal Victor were the only two favorites to win in the first four events. One of the surprises was the defeat of Algareta, the prohibitive favorite in the second event. Track fast. Summaries:

First race, selling, one mile—Uhlera, 57 (McGinn), 4 to 1, wen; Junnerta, 57 (May), 8 to 5, second; Poorland, 57 Q. Hickes, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1.44, Lobengula, Doctor Black, Issaes, Orman, Cavallo, Richardson, The Jefferson and Foxey also ran.

Second race, six furlongs—Arachus, 110 (Dupse) Two favorites won-Sir Florian in the fourth and Barbetto in the fifth. Sir Florian made all the running and won easily from Borough and Barbetto, off none too well, closed with a rush and won from the pacemaker, Alzora. Prince Richard, at 8 won the first race, ridden out, from the favorite, Godfrey, on whom Williams rode a careless race, and Military, at 30 to 1, won the second, a head before Glade Run and Rochampton. Rochampton and Military were off running and made the pace, while Glade Run was all but left. Shaw persevered with him, however, and at the end was beaten only a short head. The Rhymer and Belle of Troy were equal favorites in the last race, but Kinnikinnic was first home. Shaw kept him well up all the way and coming away when The Rhymer stopped, he won eleverly from Belle of

REIFF MAKES A STATEMENT.

Accuses English Jockey of Pulling His Mount in Race Complained of by the Earl-Expects to Be Suspended.

SPECIAL BY CABLE. London, Nov. 12.—(Copyright, 1900, by W. R. Hearst.)—Lord Durham is determined to force the charges of "doping" and inand-out riding which he has made against Enoch Wizard, the trainer, and Lester Reiff, the jockey, as a result of the race at Liverpool on November 9, when Richard Croker's horse The Scotchman II, ridden by Lester Reiff, beat out Gerolstein, Lord Durham's entry, with Jockey Ricoby up. In a previous race at Doncaster Gerolstein won easily over The Scotchman II. Such a decided reversal of form gave Lord Durham, who a short time before had soundly berated the methods of American

That Durham is still determined to force matters to an issue is shown by his ac-matters to an issue is shown by his ac-tion to-day. He plainly accuses Reiff of "pulling" The Scotchman II at Doncaster. Lord Durham said to-day; "In a speech at the Jockey Club Houghon meeting I said Reiff had not attempted to heat Gerolstein at Doncaster. So my complaint was not made because I lost the race. I carnestly hope the case will be re-ferred to the stewards of the Jockey Club." The local stewards at Doneaster sum-moned Wishard and Relff for an explanation of the Doncaster running, at the in-stance of Lord Durham, but they decided to refer the case to the stewards of the Jock y Club, and this august board-the highest racing tribunal in England-will take up the matter on November 19, when Lord Falmouth will preside.

All the best known trainers and jockeys in England have been invited to the meet-ing, and the methods of both English and American trainers and jockeys will be in-vestigated, but every one here knows that the Americans will be the only ones to be hauled over the coals—not the Englishmon. It is considered almost a foregone conclusion that Reiff's license will be canceled.

Reiff accuses Ricoby, the jockey who had the mount on Gerolstein, of deliberately "pulling" the horse, and, to substantiate the charge, offered to bet that if Gerolstein and The Scotchman II ran again and he had the mount on Gerolstein he would win.

The Jockey Club has granted permission to the Washington Jockey Chib to hold a nine-teen-day meeting at its Bennings course, beginning on Saturday, November 17, and ending on Saturday, December 8, The club has announced a list of stakes to be racing days down to twelve. The trouble fles in a rule of the Western Turf Congress, which prohibits any racing in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains and north of latitude 35 degrees during the months of January, February or December. So, under this rule, there can be no racing north of South Carolina atter December I. The penalty for an infraction of this rule is that all persons, associations of the representations of the rule of the r of this rule is that all persons, associations or corporations giving, promoting or participating in any of the racing or doing any of the acts prohibited under the rule, shall be outlawed from the tracks of the members of the Turf Congress, the penalty applying also to every owner, trainer, jockey, official, bookmaker, poolseller and horse that participates in such prohibited racing or acts, as well as to every horse that is owned, trained or under the control of any of the above-mentioned persons, and to every race track upon which such prohibited racing is given, as well as to every person or horse that races upon the same. The objection to the Washington Jockey Club's extending its meeting into December comes from New Orleans, whither a number of horses will be shipped after the Bennings meeting.

ber comes from New Orleans, whither a number of horses will be shipped after the Bennings meeting.

The meeting at New Orleans begins about December 1, and there is continuous rating on the track of the Crescent City Jockey Club up to March 21 of next year. It is strange that the officials of this course should make objection to the Bennings meeting running for only cight days into December, inasmuch as they have in the neighborhood of 160 days' rating without any opposition nearer than California, which is too far away to affect the success of the Louisiana track. They, however, in justification of their protest, say that the by-law in question was adopted under agreement made with the Jockey Club in 1894, and that until it is amended or repealed it must be enforced literally. There is no doubt that the Turf Congress will stand by the rule, and, if the Bennings meeting extends into December, all who participate in the meeting after November 39 will be outlawed, as far as racing on the tracks over which the Turf Congress exercises control.

Members of the Jockey Club, however, state that the agreement of 1884 between the ruling turf bodies of the East and West was for three years only, and that there has been no agreement between them sine then, although both the Turf Congress and the Jockey Club have recognized the rulings of one another in the cases of men and horses who have been ruled off for any cause.

Benny Falk, the Chicago bookmaker, a familiar figure to the frequenters of Fort Erie for several years previous to last season, spent several towns in Buffalo Saturday en reute from Salt Lake City to New York. In addition to booking on the Western tracks this summer Falk has been identified with the management of a variety show and a melodrama, which are now being played throughout the West.

"I shall visit Washington, I expect," said Falk, "and then go on to New Orleans for the winter's campaign with the bangtaffs." Falk was one of the men interested in the Windsor meeting held this season.

"Will there be a meeting there next year?" he was asked,

"Sure to be," he declared emphatically, "but it is likely that the meeting will not be run in opposition to that at Highland Park, as it was this summer. You see, we originally selected dates not in opposition with Highland Park, and after the change in the Canadian circuit schedule we kept right on and both tracks lost money. Messrs, Cella & Tilles, who had the Highland Park betting privilege, told me that they dropped $40,000 on the experience, and I know that we ran $25,000 to the bad. We had to stay there then and get it back, which we did, but by so doins ran in competition with the Hunt meeting at Toronto, a preceeding to which I was opposed. It will not be likely to happen again. Detroit is good enough for one meeting, but it is out of the question to talk of the city supporting two meetings run with conflicting dates." Benny Falk, the Chicago bookmaker,

Joseph Scherrer has received a letter from his friend, Jockey Lester Relff, the American rider, who is now in England. Relff before leaving this country promised Scherrer that he would do all he could for him in England in the way of securing him a contract with one of the prominent racing stables of Europe. Relff writes that he has talked with several owners, and has a promise from a noted Russian owner of thoroughbreds to give Scherrer a chance in the saddle next season. The Russian is anxious to secure an American rider, and Scherrer has concluded to take a trip abroad some time in December to try and make arrangements to ride on the British soil next season.

All the packers of Chicago dressed beef have branch establishments in this city, and the local representatives declare they have received no intlination that ment prices would be raised. They compared the previous week, to show that there had been no advance. No large dealer could be found who believed the Chicago combination would send prices searing.

"No word of the rumored advance has come to me from the Chicago office," said the local agent for Swift Co, to-day, "and there has been no advance. Good builocks are now fetching 81, cents a pound dressed, or $5.50 by the hundred pounds. Some ment is selling for 7 cents a pound wholesale. The market is brisker how than it was a mouth ago, and beef may be half a cent a pound higher, but the average price is being maintained. The range cattle season of the Far West and Texas is about finished. Corn is also high and native cattle are coming in from Illinois and Missouri and such States. FROST ASKS BIG DAMAGES.

Suit of Alleged Poolroom Agent Comes to Trial.

New York, Nov. 12.—The suit of Joseph W. Frost against Robert A. Plakerton, chile of the Pinkerton Detective Bureau, and the Brooklyn Jockey Club, to recover $5,000 for assault and illegal arrest, came up to-day before Justlee Truax and a jury in the Supreme Court.

The arrest of Frost occurred on September 25, 1891. Frost was subsequently indicted by the Grand Jury of Kings County, charged with supplying poolrooms with information from the Gravesend track and with assaulting the police who arrested him. He has never been brought to trial.

The arrest was the result of efforts made by the Brooklyn Jockey Club to prevent the transmission from the track of information for the use of poolrooms in New York Cliy.
